TRIUMPH FOR IKE AND NATION

Since the Senate-approved reciprocal trade bill contains stiffer protectionist features than the previously voted House measure, we may fairly assume that the proposal will get no more serious hacking before it reaches President Eisenhower's desk.

As endorsed by the Senate, the bill is a compromise between the President's liberalizing trade plans and the high tariff protectionism urged vigorously by many lawmakers.

Yet, as has been noted before, the palm belongs more to Mr. Eisenhower than to the high tariff bloc. For the generalized amendments which were the principal concessions to protectionism were not the specific import restrictions the objectors desired.

And even those changes which were adopted leave finally to the President's discretion the question whether to impose import quotas or act otherwise to shield American industry from foreign competition.

On top of this the President won three important battles. First, he gained a three-year extension of the trade law instead of the usual one-year renewal. In recent years all efforts to achieve longer extensions than a year had failed.

He gained the power to make tariff reductions of five per cent per year on most trade items for the next three years.

And he will also be able to reduce to 50 per cent any tariffs which now are above that rate.

The only victory on specific items won by the President's opposition was an amendment that is designed to safeguard the textile and chemical industries by banning cuts in duties on Japanese products more than 50 per cent below levels prevailing in 1945.

The textile restrictions might have been far more sweeping but for the thorough job done by Senator Gore of Tennessee in showing the true effects of foreign trade on the textile field.

Documenting his argument fully with statistics and other evidence, he demonstrated that the industry's difficulties cannot be blamed on textile imports, that on the contrary it benefits substantially from the exports which other lands can only pay for by selling in this country.

The chronically sick coal industry could not make out a case, either, for blaming all its ills on oil imports.

This was a triumph for Mr. Eisenhower. But many would say it is a victory for the national interest, on the theory that the American economy will be stronger in the long run if it is trading actively with other nations and thus boosting their economic health and staying power.

The Mature Parent

Why Discordant Marriages Breed Delinquent Children

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

I have yet to see an official statement on juvenile delinquency which does not belabor America's "broken homes" as a leading cause. Are the officials right? Are "broken homes" primarily responsible for delinquent children?

No, says a study made of some 18,000 of them and reported by psychiatrist Louise Despert in her book, "Children of Divorce." Of this group, only three-tenths had separated or divorced parents. The rest had parents who lived together—in secret or open conflict.

No, says the fatal monotony with which the words "marital friction" recur in the delinquency records of my own experience.

"A child who has been able to weather divorce has a better chance of healthy maturity than one of an unhappy marriage," writes Dr. Despert.

If discordant marriage is a chief breeding ground of delinquency, why aren't we told so?

Surely nobody wishes to support unhappily married parents in the delusion that maintaining their legal relationship guarantees their children healthy maturity. Surely nobody wants to deprive such parents of the very truth they need to take brave stock of their human relationship—and act to improve it.

This column is not written to scare anyone. It is written to arouse us to the dilemma of the child of marital conflict.

He cannot accept his parents' values.

It is as simple as that.

He cannot trust what they tell him about the values of truthfulness, perseverance or courage. As his leaders, they have been unable to resolve their own troubles by applying these values. So he develops contempt for the values as useless and impractical. He becomes, in effect, a child without inner direction.

He may begin to invite attack by society, for like his leaders he asks nothing better for himself than perpetual discord.

Thus, his basic problem is his leaders' refusal to demand something better than perpetual discord for themselves.

By their demand for happier experience, they take a vital step in the practice of that truthfulness, perseverance and courage they have preached.

Apathy is the enemy. As we rise up out of it to seek help from our priest, rabbi, minister, marriage counselor or clinic, we demonstrate our refusal to accept conflict as a desirable way of life. Our action declares it intolerable.

This demonstration is necessary to our child's acceptance of law.

NEW YORK (AP) — Everyone knows American people are getting healthier. But did you know American houseflies are getting tougher and more durable, too?

They are so rugged now that Herbert F. Tomasek of Pittsburgh is employing a variant of a German wartime nerve gas as the killing agent in a new fly trap he developed.

Tomasek, who spent a year perfecting his trap, known as the "Fly-Chamber," learned a great deal about houseflies during experiments in which he reared, then trapped and killed more than 150,000 insects at the rate of 5,000 a week.

"We found, for example," he remarked, "that it is easier to trap male flies than female flies, and that flies are somewhat color conscious. They are attracted to a black landing surface but repelled by a yellow colored one."

Ten years ago the world was hopeful that DDT promised to spell the doom of the household fly. Unfortunately, DDT resistant strains of flies now have developed.

Over the years inventors have probably come up with as many different kinds of fly traps as they have can openers.

Tomasek, general manager of the Pittsburgh Coke and Chemical Co.'s Agricultural Chemical Division, set out in September, 1944, to design still another fly trap using as the lethal ingredient a new insecticide called L-13-59 or Dipterex. It is an organic phosphonate developed by Dr. Gerhard Schrader, a German scientist. Operating on the same principle as nerve gas, it destroys the fly by attacking its central nervous system.

"But it is only mildly toxic to human beings," Tomasek said. "A 200-pound man would have to drink 60 bottles of the insecticide to get a fatal dose."

He feels his fly trap is the first that has landing fields especially geared to the fly's own preferences. In essence it is a bottle with a pylon in the center around which are four flat black landing surfaces in tiers. The tiers are baited with insecticide mixed with a perfumed sugar base to attract the insects.

"Flies land, ingest the bait and die within 40 seconds. Flies ordinarily live about 20 days."

Why is it easier to trap male than female flies?

"The male flies roam more," said Tomasek. "They are looking for girl friends as well as food. The female flies seem to move about only when in search of food. They don't search for boy friends. They let the gentlemen of the species do the courting."

Tomasek doesn't expect his "fly-chamber" or any other manmade flytrap will rid the earth of musca domestica, the common housefly.

"No, we'll hardly wipe out the housefly in our lifetime. For several years the number of flies has been actually increasing," he said.

As a Rule Inflammation of Bladder Can Be Controlled

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Inflammation of the urinary bladder is known medically as cystitis. The most common symptoms include the presence of pus in the urine, pain, and frequent urination. When cystitis develops suddenly, as it often does, chills and fever are likely to be present. The victim may suffer from sleeplessness and loss of weight.

The kind which comes suddenly is known as acute cystitis, and the difficulty usually starts near the base of the bladder, but shows a tendency to spread to other parts of the lining membrane of this organ. The wall of the bladder becomes inflamed and is swollen and bright red in color. Regardless of whether it is caused by germs or by chemicals, the best treatment for acute cystitis is to try to find the exact cause and remove or treat it.

CHRONIC CYSTITIS, a condition in which there is long-lasting inflammation of the wall of the bladder with perhaps pain at intervals and pus either constantly or off and on, is another common problem. This often follows acute cystitis.

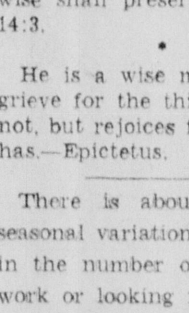

In such cases expert study not only of the bladder itself, but of the surrounding tissues including the kidney, must be carried out. One important study can be made by using an instrument with lights and mirrors called a cystoscope.

This is passed into the bladder through its external passageway so that the physician can look directly at the bladder wall.

AS A RULE CYSTITIS or inflammation of the bladder should be considered as a symptom of something wrong elsewhere rather than as a disease in itself. With modern methods, and especially by treatment with some of the newer antibiotic preparations, most cases of cystitis can be brought under control.

SYMPTOMS OF CYSTITIS are not harmless and rarely go away by themselves. It is foolhardy to neglect them since serious complications can develop in time. Furthermore most varieties of cystitis are easier to treat successfully in their early stages than if they have existed for a long time.

What determines how much pain you are going to need to paint walls is how smooth they are. The smoother the walls, the less paint. Usually a gallon covers between 300 and 500 square feet.

Pour melted butter or margarine over contents of casserole. Bake in Moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Garnish with slices of crisp bacon, if desired.

President Shoots Down Flying Saucer in News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any idea that the United States will put a sizable contingent of American ground troops on Formosa for defense of the island has now been given permanent burial by President Eisenhower.

The President told his press conference that while the United States now has a MAAG—Military Assistance Advisory Group—on Formosa to train Chinese Nationalist troops, there has been no suggestion for a major American base on the island.

The President said he had thought of everything that might be needed out there, but he had no recommendation from anyone to make it a permanent station for American ground troops.

This should lay the ghost of that rumor, which has been floating around Washington rather conspicuously. The way these flying news saucers get launched sometimes borders on the fantastic.

ON FEB. 16, Joseph C. Harsch of Christian Science Monitor wrote a piece on the dangers of the administration's military cutbacks. As an illustration he cited the fact that these cutbacks would make it impossible for the United States to put a couple of division of ground troops on Formosa, if it were decided that should be done. He wrote:

"If ground troops of the U. S. Army were put ashore in Formosa and entrusted with the task of defending it, there can be little room for doubt that it would be defended effectively for as long as Washington was willing to leave those troops on the island."

Here is plainly a case where America can keep the peace by preventing the Communists from obtaining a prize without war. Whether the failure to hold Formosa would actually jeopardize the security of the United States is another matter. But it would be a loss in prestige which could be averted most effectively by American troops.

THIS IS APPARENTLY THE FIRST time this idea got out in the open. Mr. Harsch says now that he does not think he originated it, but just happened to hit on an idea which government officials also were considering.

For a month or more there was no reaction. Then one day in a private conversation with an official of the British embassy, Mr. Harsch learned that his seed idea had borne fruit and was being considered by the Pentagon.

At about the same time other reporters began to hear rumors that a proposal of this kind was in the works. But the rumor couldn't be pinned down, so nobody wrote it.

Then on April 29 the story came out. Press associations carried the report that unnamed sources in the State Department and the Pentagon were considering establishment of permanent American bases for Air, Marine or Army ground forces on Formosa.

The purpose was said to be to bolster Nationalist Chinese morale and to show the Chinese Communists that the United States meant business in defense of Formosa.

THE REPORTS WERE UNQUESTIONABLE justified at some intermediate level of government planning. But checks at the very top disclosed that Cabinet officers had never heard of the plan.

Four days later, when President Eisenhower was asked about it directly, he scotched the story completely.

For the United States to put ground troops on Formosa would, of course, be a reversal of every doctrine that has been advanced for defense of the island.

The big pitch of Chiang Kai-shek's supporters in the United States has always been that here were half a million Chinese Nationalist troops who were not being used. They have been pictured as raring to reconquer the mainland. All they would need would be a go-ahead signal, sea transportation and air support.

This is, of course, a far cry from the doctrine that it will now be necessary to put American forces on Formosa, just to defend the island.

It's Always Busy Wife Who Gets Community Job

Young Mrs. Smith is right in the middle of the busiest years of her life. She's running a home, helping her husband up the success ladder, taking care of children and trying to do each job to the best of her ability.

Middle-aged or elderly, but active and alert, Mrs. Jones has her big job done and has to try to fill her days with bridge parties, puttering and sometimes by interfering in the lives of her grown children.

But when there is school or community work to be done, who gets asked to do it—the busy young mother or the older woman with time on her hands?

Usually it is the busy young mother who is called upon. And it is hard for her to plead that she just doesn't have the time because having children to care for isn't considered any sort of an excuse for not taking on outside activities.

LATCHKEY SYMBOL FOR GENERATION This is the kind of situation Dr. Herbert Ratner must have had in mind when he recently gave a mental health lecture to young parents and told them:

"We're raising a generation of latchkey kids. They come home to find that mama has gone out to improve the school system or the police force. Civic and community organizations should be left to older women who already have raised their families."

Why don't we women take Dr. Ratner's advice? Next time we need to call on someone to work on a committee or help with a campaign—don't call a busy young mother and ask her to assume the responsibility. Look around your neighborhood and among your own acquaintances and find an older woman who has plenty of time for outside activities. Ask her to do the job—and you will be relieving some young mother of an added chore and perhaps giving some older woman a sense of being needed and useful.

Why take anything less than the sensation of the year?

WHEN you learn what's been done in the automobile pictured here, you can easily see why this beauty is winning rave notices coast to coast.

Buick engineers took the hardtop body design that has been growing tremendously in popularity over the past six years—and gave it four doors instead of two.

Simple? Sure—to all outward appearances.

But it took a brand-new kind of body with wholly new structural principles to do it—to bring this long-awaited new kind of automobile to the public in volume numbers and at popular prices.

For this is a true hardtop—with the sleek and racy look of a Convertible, because there are no center posts in the window areas on either side.

And now it has front doors for the front-seat passengers—and rear doors for the rear-seat passengers—plus room increased to the size of a full Sedan.

(It took some special kind of engineering magic, you can be sure, to hinge all four doors at their forward edges for greater safety, and more ease of entering and exiting.)

So it looks like Buick has scooped the industry again—and come up with the hottest news in hardtops since Buick originated the very first two-door hardtop six years ago.

HOTTEST NEWS IN AUTOMATIC DRIVES IS VARIABLE PITCH DYNAFLOW

It's the world's first transmission with the switch-pitch principle of the modern airplane's variable pitch propeller. You get better gas mileage in cruising. You switch the pitch just by pressing the gas pedal—and get lightning-like response for getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of accelerating power. It's the performance thrill of the year. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Series at no more extra cost than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

And you can have it now—in the low-price SPECIAL or the supremely-powered CENTURY—and either one at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door.

Drop in on us today—this week, for sure—and see how easily and how quickly one can be yours.

IT'S A PSYCHOLOGICAL FACT: PLEASURE HELPS YOUR DISPOSITION

How's your disposition today?

It's natural to feel "edgy" sometimes when little annoyances pile up. Did you know that psychology says one help to your disposition is your everyday pleasures? They're really important. That's why, if you're a smoker, the wise choice in cigarettes is the most pleasure-giving cigarette. That means Camels.

For more pure pleasure...have a Camel

YES, it's wise to choose your cigarette for the pleasure it gives you. Because pleasure helps your disposition. And most everybody knows that the most pleasure-giving cigarette is Camel. No other cigarette has Camel's richer blend of mild, costly tobaccos. No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild. No wonder Camels agree with more people than any other cigarette! Remember . . . A cigarette that short-cuts you on flavor does not give you Camels' pure pleasure. So, have a Camel!

No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild!

a message from Mary

HI I really look forward to Sundays and yesterday was such a wonderful day in every way except that it just flew by. We had my family out for dinner and as usual Bill cooked a wonderful meal—fried chicken, milk gravy, corn on the cob, mashed potatoes, relishes, jello salad, strawberry shortcake, and hot biscuits. I knew that Bill was a good photographer before I married him and although he had told me that he liked to cook I didn't believe that he could nor did I think he could be such a good one.

Several people have called lately asking us if we could shoot their flower gardens in color. We will be happy to do so but it does cost. A 4x5 transparency cost $10, for the first one and $7.50 for each additional. The transparency is yours to keep and then you may have your own prints made at the Camera Shop. We will shoot 35mm transparencies of your garden at $3. for the first one and $2.50 for each additional with a minimum of three shots. Again you would have to take the transparency to the Camera Shop to have a color print made.

Saturday evening someone called us at home wanting to buy some film. We do not handle any film or cameras—WE CREATE AND SELL PICTURES EXCLUSIVELY—the very finest in portraiture and clear, sharp commercials. When Bill and I travel through the country we have never seen a combined studio camera shop that does a very good job of either. We buy all of our supplies at THE CAMERA SHOP, also all of our equipment. Bob Linebaugh keeps all of Bill's equipment in excellent working shape.

Graduation is just around the corner for many of the high school students and can you think of a better occasion for having a fine portrait made of your pride and joy. Graduation is an accomplishment and should be remembered with one of our finest portraits. Call me at 979 now for an appointment.

Bill is planning a bigger and better baby contest for this summer. One that you really can't afford to miss. But if you would like to have your baby photographed before then, why not take advantage of TUESDAY IS TOTS DAY. No appointment is needed for the baby's portrait on Tuesday and we have tiny prices for tiny tots on this day only. PRICES THAT YOU CAN AFFORD. Then, too, we have easy payment plans to fit any budget. Why don't you come in this Tuesday. I really hope that I'll

Be Seeing you,

Why scrap free competition?

Competition Serves Consumers Best

In the production of Natural Gas or any other product

Millions of homes like yours have natural gas because more than 8,000 producers compete at great financial risk to find it and get it from the ground. The producers also compete to sell it to the pipelines who bring it to your local gas company.

Now, over the opposition of responsible groups and authorities, Federal price-fixing threatens your long-term gas supply and the very principle of free competitive production.

Read what these representative groups and individuals say:

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

JEROME K. KUYKENDALL, CHAIRMAN

"We believe that no sound fuel policy can be erected upon such discrimination as presently exists against natural gas and in favor of other competitive fuels... Congress should not single out natural gas as the only one among those fuels over which an artificial ceiling should be placed." March 22, 1955.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON ENERGY SUPPLIES AND RESOURCES POLICY

"In the interest of a sound fuel policy and the protection of the national defense and consumer interests... we believe the Federal Government should not control the production, gathering, processing or sale of natural gas prior to its entry into an interstate transmission line." February 26, 1955.

ILLINOIS MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION

"The exploration for, and production and sale of gas in the producing areas is highly competitive as evidenced by... the strong competition which the industry's product must face from its chief rivals, coal and oil, all of which renders public utility regulation completely inappropriate." February 15, 1955.

AMERICAN NATIONAL CATTLEMEN'S ASSOCIATION

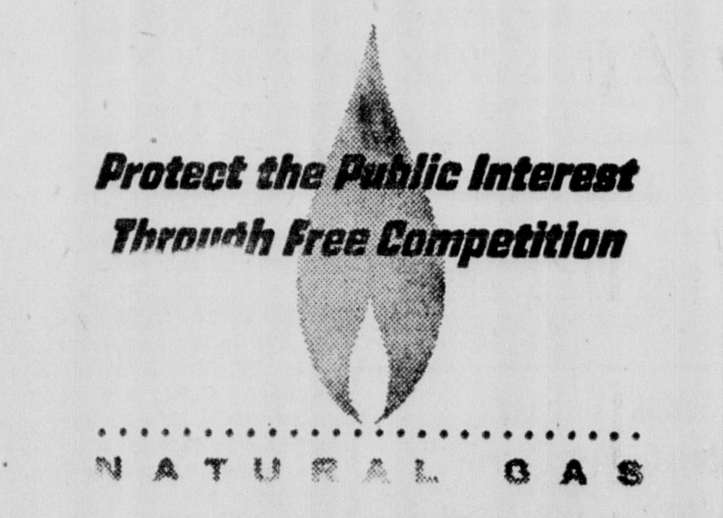

"Gas is an important product of ranch and farm land. This decision... may well be the beginning of laws to regulate all industries in this country, including the livestock industry." January 12, 1955.

AMERICAN FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

"Since the field price of natural gas is adequately regulated by competition we favor legislation providing that field prices of natural gas shall not be regulated by the Federal Power Commission." December 16, 1954.

LEAGUE OF KANSAS MUNICIPALITIES

"The regulation by the Federal Government of the price of gas sold by independent producers and gatherers is contrary to the public interest including the interests of consumers in the municipalities who are members of this League." December 16, 1954.

ILLINOIS NATURAL GAS AND OIL RESOURCES COMMITTEE

W. J. Arnold, Chairman
35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois

Made up of individuals and companies concerned with natural gas and the broader basic issues of a free economy. This Committee believes that it has a responsibility to place the facts before the American people, that they may form their own free will.

Critic Lauds Grade School Instrumentalists

By HUGH BEGGS
Last Friday evening "Fun with Music" was presented by the combined instrumental groups from the eight elementary schools of district 117. O. A. Schuette is in charge of this music program in our schools and he conducted a good share of the music performed Friday evening. He was assisted by Mrs. Robert Ogle and Miss Elaine Previos.

This program offers the goal for the years work. It was gratifying to see and hear such a large number of fourth, fifth and sixth graders working together, demonstrating their growing skills, their orderliness and discipline.

The first part of the program was given over to 150 fourth graders playing Tonettes. Their room teachers had helped in developing this kind of music making.

The next part of the program was played by the combined groups of 128 in all playing wind instruments. In addition to the numbers by the full ensemble there was a flute duet, an oboe solo, French horn solo, trumpet duet and a saxophone quartet.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

XXXI
WITH the Madelia posse hesitating to close in, Cole led his followers in the only direction open to them—straight away from the west bank, out across the lake itself. Somehow, they made the crossing, wading, slipping, floundering, flailing through the deeper holes, but always keeping their precious guns arm-high above the brackish waters. Quite apparently, in the closing cooperation of the chase, the Missourians had abandoned their saddles, preferring, in the final analysis, the classic hand-gun to the cumbersome carbine. "Todd's terrible revolver fighters" to the bitter end!

The horses of Glispin's possemen would not take the water, and hurriedly the sheriff ordered his followers south to the ford at the outlet of the pond. He shouted them excitedly on, having deduced from the direction of the outlaws their big leader's east-bank objective: a herd of pastured saddlehorses grazing in a lakeside field.

It was a race of fresh horsemen against the failing time and strength of four exhausted men on foot, three of whom were desperately wounded. Glispin won it by a narrow margin, cutting between Cole and the pastured horses, just as the latter led his staggering band out of the water and up the east-bank mudflats.

They reached the ford safely and across its narrow channel beheld a sight of princely wealth: the hunting camp of a group of St. Paul sportsmen.

And in that camp, not 100 yards from where they stood, were the hunters' four picketed saddlemounts—under leather, full-brided, ready to ride!

"Four horses!" croaked the big outlaw hollowly, and plunged in to the Watonwan.

Behind him came Jim and Charlie Pitts, dragging the cursing, weeping Bob between them. The skirmish line advanced.

The ground upon which they stood formed a five-acre triangle of wild grapevine, willow, box elder and plum.

Within minutes after the bandits entered the trap, the bluffs were crawling with possemen. Across the Watonwan, other scores of manhunters suddenly appeared. Their trap was boxed.

Cole came to bay in a heavy copse of grapevine and willow near the tip of the triangle. Here at least they had some protection from the field of fire afforded their enemies by the bluff above. And they could, with their own fire, cover the wide base of the triangle up-river from them.

He helped the others make a crude couch for Bob, turned with them to crouch and peer through the vines, waiting for the rest of it.

across the base of the triangle in full view of the hidden outlaws. At 200 feet, the posse spotted a movement in the vines ahead. They hesitated and Cole's gun roared. Seven carbines crashed in reply. Pitts began firing now, and Jim. Another gun crashed, and the possemen knew the wounded Bob Younger had somehow forced himself up and into the battle. Glispin's skirmish line moved straight in, bawling the scattered revolver fire, answering it with ordered rifle volleys of their own. At point-blank range, later lapped off as 30 feet, they fired their last rounds.

All sound had ceased within the grape thicket.

Then a vine moved suddenly.

FROM beneath it writhed the body of a man. He rolled to his knees, struggled to his feet, stood facing them. He was a mass of fresh blood but the big gun still dangled from his left hand. His right hand was wrapped in a dirty sling across his chest, and the blood on that hand was old and black and fly-encrusted.

"I surrender," whispered Bob Younger. "They're all down but me."

"Drop your gun, then," ordered Glispin.

The big fingers loosened. The gun slid from them. It struck a rock in falling, bounced into the sodden leaf-mold, lay there, still and dully gleaming under the raindrop of the thicket.

Bob followed it down, falling heavily as the posse moved forward.

Sheriff Glispin stepped over the motionless body of the young outlaw. Behind him, his possemen moved gingerly around the body, keeping their eyes on Glispin.

They followed him into the thicket, at fingers inside trigger guards, jaws hard-set, carbine muzzles nervously probing the silent vines. All sensed the shadow of tension and fear falling ahead of that last, interminable moment. None sensed the deeper, longer shadow standing beyond it.

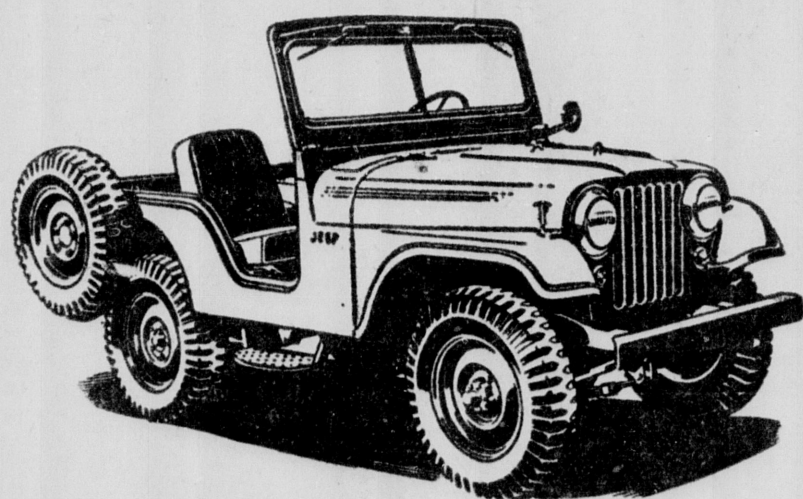

An era had died with the dropping of Bob Younger's gun.

Rocky Marciano Still Champ Following TKO Of Don Cockell In 9th

By JACK HAND
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rocky Marciano sent courageous Don Cockell home to England on his shield Monday night, a blood-spattered technical knockout victim, in 54 seconds of the ninth round in the fifth defense of his world heavyweight title.

Referee Frankie Brown enfolded the fat hog farmer in his arms to stop him from further punishment after he reeled drunkenly toward the ropes.

Cockell had been knocked through the ropes for a count of two when the bell rang ending the eighth round. Out for the kill the unbeaten 30-year-old Brockton, Mass., slugger swarmed over game Don with all the fury of his animal attack in the ninth.

Pittsfield, Mt. Sterling Win Openers

PITTSFIELD.—(Special) — The Pittsfield Saukies and Mt. Sterling Hornets advanced in the Pittsfield sub-district baseball tourney yesterday with wins over Bluffs and Meredosa.

In the first game of a double-header, the Mt. Sterling nine had an easy time of it as it scored a one-sided 21-3 win over Meredosa.

The second contest was somewhat different as Pittsfield's Tom Petty and Bluffs' Harold Graves struck out 26 men between them. However Petty and his Pittsfield teammates came out on top of the 7-2 score to defeat the Bluejays. Petty had 14 whiffs while Graves struck out 12. Both hurlers allowed three hits.

Twin Bill Today

Another doubleheader program is on tap today as Griggsville tangles with Mt. Sterling in the first game at 1:30 and Pittsfield meets the winner of that game in the finals of the sub-district in the second contest scheduled to start at 3:30. The winner of this game meets the Jacksonville winner Thursday.

Jacksonville IRV Team Loses

The Jacksonville nine, a member of the Illinois River Valley baseball loop, dropped an 18-9 contest to visiting Barry on the IC baseball field Sunday afternoon.

The Jacks collected eight hits while the visitors combed Jacksonville pitching for 11 safeties. Roger Ezam was the top hitter for the losers with three for five while Berdoff of Barry had four for five.

Strubbe was on the mound for Jacksonville with Brintin behind the plate. Billings and Webl formed the Barry battery.

IC Golfers Place 4th In PCC Meet; Begin Busy Week At Hilltop

The Illinois College golf team placed fourth in the Prairie College Conference meet held at Springfield at the Illini Country Club course. It was the first scheduled meet of the year for the Blueboys.

Shurtliff won the team honors with a 323 total. McKendree was second with 344. Principia came in third with 363 and IC had 383. Fifth place went to Concordia while Greenville, Eureka and Blackburn finished sixth, seventh and eighth respectively.

Low man for IC was Cyril Heselt who fired an 88 on the long and rough par 71 course. Bill Ingle, Dick Beasley and Larry Tharp completed the four man IC team.

Baseball

Illinois College athletic director Al Miller announced a busy week for the Blueboy athletes. The first competition of the week was yesterday when the golf team took part in the conference meet. The only day off is today when no athletic events are scheduled.

However, the baseball team has two games on tap this week the first being Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 on the IC field when it plays host to Greenville in a non-conference game.

The Blueboys carry a 3-2 record into Friday's PCC game at Eureka. These two contests, plus next Tuesday's game against Concordia bring to a close the IC baseball schedule for 1955.

JIMMIE LYNCH SHOW TONIGHT

Jimmie

LYNCH

DEATH DODGERS

Lucky Leo Schultz, the "dive-bomber" king of the Jimmie Lynch Death Dodgers, looks very satisfied with California sunshine. He just completed another movie, doing the thrill driving in a "cops and robbers" picture in Hollywood. Leo will be on hand for the Lynch show here at Jacksonville Fairgrounds on Tuesday Night, May 17, at 8:00. When the Death Dodgers move into the Fairgrounds in their all new 1955 fleet of automobiles, thrill seekers will be treated to the finest organization of its kind in the country.

Among the stunts you'll see them perform will be such feats as crashing through a flaming boardwalk at high speed, running a new car high on two wheels, balancing it for 35-40 feet before dropping it back on all fours; running fender to fender at high speed.

One of the most interesting of the stunts will be the crash rollover contest which is staged between Miss Patricia Jones, the nation's only girl stunt driver, and one of the stuntmen in the show.

In this contest, each tries to crash roll an automobile wheel to wheel more times than the other. A season point score is kept, with a cash award going to the winner at the end of the season.

The Lynch show also features motorcycle stunts which include battering through a flaming boardwalk, and leaping over four automobiles and landing on a small inclined rampway.

The entire show lasts two hours and includes nearly 20 acts, interspersed with comedy. The Jacksonville Lions Club is sponsoring the event and members are now selling special reduced tickets.

Jacks Gain Finals Berth; Routt Meets Franklin At 4 Today

Bill Lewis and Larry Scott combined to hurl the Jacksonville Crimsons into the final game of the local sub-district baseball tourney as the Jacks defeated the ISD Tigers 10-6 on the JHS athletic field.

The win enabled the Crimsons to move into Wednesday's finals against the winner of today's Routt-Franklin contest. The winner of this contest Wednesday will play the Pittsfield winner Thursday afternoon at Pittsfield and this championship plays Lanphier at Springfield in the Sectional.

Bill Lewis started on the mound for the Jacks and hurled the first four innings. The righthander left the hill at the start of the fifth in favor of southpaw Larry Scott who went the remainder of the seven innings contest. The two Crimsons hurlers yielded just three hits to the Tigers while the Kraushaar-men collected ten safeties off Ronald Broseghini. The two JHS pitchers struck out 12 Tigers while four Crimsons went down via the three strikes rule.

The big inning for the Crimsons was the second when they tallied five times on four hits. Bill Lewis led off the frame with a single and after the next man went out, Danny Woodward followed with a single and Bill Nunn was safe on an error. Three errors, plus singles by Roeege and Jim Woodward accounted for the five runs.

ISD came back to score two runs in the bottom of the second on only one hit. A JHS error, a base on balls and Bill Zachariasen's one bagger accounted for the two runs.

The Jacks came right back in the top of the third to score two more on singles by Lewis and Fairfield, a walk to Nunn and an error.

The Crimsons added to their lead with two more runs in the fifth when Lewis led off with a double, his third straight hit, and D. Woodward followed with a single, knocking in Lewis and Woodward scored on a pair of Tiger errors. The Jacks final run came in the seventh inning on a pair of walks and an error.

Other Than Bob Turley Traded Players Aren't Faring Too Well

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Except for fireballer Bob Turley and a couple of lesser lights, players traded by one major league club to another since the end of last season are not faring too well, a check showed Monday.

Turley is pitching just about the best ball in the American League. The strong-armed righthander, one of the 18 players who figured in the gigantic winter deal between Baltimore and New York, has won six of seven for the Yankees.

The two biggest disappointments have been Baltimore's Gene Woodling and Cincinnati's Ray Jablonksi.

Three of the nine players shipped by the Yankees to Baltimore are gone. Of the others, only rookie Hal Smith has given Manager Paul Richards cause to smile occasionally. The young catcher has nailed down the first string job with 313 hitting and solid receiving.

Shortstop Willie Miranda, at 242, hasn't been fielding up to expectations and pitchers Harry Byrd and Jim McDonald have won three games between them.

Shortstop Billy Hunter, who came along with Turley and Don Larsen, has lived up to his defensive reputation but is batting .180. Larsen has been shipped to Denver.

Chicago White Sox General Manager Frank Lane's reputation as a shrewd trader has been enhanced because of the lousy hitting of Bob Nieman. The stocky outfielder, who came to Chicago along with Walt Dropo and southpaw Ted Gray in a deal that sent Ferris Fain, Jack Phillips and Leo Cristante to Detroit, is hitting .316 and ranks fourth in the league with 24 runs batted in.

Dropo is hitting .250 and Gray hasn't won a game but neither has Cristante and Fain's .267 mark on top of a still badly swollen knee is not causing great joy in Detroit.

Cleveland is still marking time waiting for Ralph Kiner to break loose from the slump that has shackled him since the start of the season. The former National League home run king has hit four home runs for the Indians but he's driven in only 11 runs and he's batting only .215.

Sam Jones, whom the Indians shipped to the Chicago Cubs along with a bundle of cash for Kiner, already has distinguished himself by pitching the majors' only no-hitter—a 4-0 victory over Pittsburgh. It was Jones' fourth victory against three losses.

A change of scenery appears to have done wonders for Jim Green-grass. The outfielder, who was traded by Cincinnati to Philadelphia along with catcher Andy Seminick and outfielder Glen Gorbous for Steve Ridzik, Smoky Burgess and Stan Palys, was roaring along

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. government bonds moved upward Monday while the corporate bond market fluctuated narrowly.

Some dealers of Treasury securities said there was some switching from stocks into government obligations which partly accounted for the price improvement.

Most railroads and industrials ended lower after a promising start. Utilities were irregular. Convertibles generally followed the stock market downward.

"Big Board" volume amounted to $3,770,000 par value compared with $2,940,000 Friday.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market suffered its second sharpest setback of the year Monday, but the fall failed to excite heavy selling.

A handful of key issues were severely depressed, and a long list of stocks closed with minus signs.

Business for the day amounted to only 2,160,000 shares.

The market opened mixed and developed a lower trend within a short time. Selling was more pronounced in steel and aircraft than in other divisions, but all declined.

It was noted that the pace of trading picked up noticeably when the decline got under way and tended to contract when prices recovered. That is a bearish sign that has been present in the market on many occasions in recent days.

The present decline in the market has been under way for nearly three weeks since prices on average reached a record high April 26. It is regarded by brokers as a consolidation movement to be expected after any sustained forward movement such as this market has witnessed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks Monday declined $2.20 to $160.30. The record high was $166.80. Monday's fall has been exceeded this year only by the drop of $3.90 March 14.

The loss in the industrial component Monday was $3.00, railroads fell $2.50, and utilities were off 30 cents.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 720,000 shares as compared with 640,000 shares traded Friday.

BREADBASKET RAINS PUSH WHEAT DOWN

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—A generally weak tone prevailed in grains on the Board of Trade Monday with only old crop soybeans resisting the selling.

Largest losses were recorded in wheat, particularly the new crop months. May wheat fluctuated over a 3 1/2-cent range, firming early, falling quite sharply around midday and then reducing part of its loss by the close.

Wheat closed 1 3/4-2 1/4 lower, corn 1 1/2 lower, oats unchanged to 3/4 lower, rye 1/4 to 1 cent lower, soybeans 1/4 lower to 2 1/4 higher and lard 8 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

More moisture in the Southwest over the weekend prompted selling in wheat. A particular dry spot—southwest Kansas—received a good part of this moisture. New crop months were sold from the start.

Meanwhile, May wheat acted anything but "tight." There were no deliveries of cash wheat on May contracts, but the shorts didn't seem to be greatly unnerved.

Corn was held back in part by fairly liberal receipts of cash grain, totaling 193 cars. Prices, however, were quoted as steady in the cash market.

In soybeans the feature was a short covering movement in the May futures. Open interest in May soybeans is even higher than in May wheat, amounting to 12,453,000 bushels at the start of trading. Trading in all May deliveries ends Thursday.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—With salable receipts adequate at 12,000 head, butcher hogs sold weak to 25 cents lower while sows fell about 50 cents Monday.

Most choice 180 to 220-pound butchers brought $17.50 to $18.00, although there were a few sales above that range. Twenty head of choice butchers sealing 200 set the top at $18.35.

Butchers weighing 230 to 260 sold at $16.75 to $17.50 while 270 to 300-pounders moved at $15.75 to $16.75. Sows sold from $12.00 to $15.25.

Steady to 50 cents higher prices were paid for steers and heifers. A few loads of prime steers moved at $26.50 to $27.25. A small lot set the top at $28.50. Most good and choice steers and yearlings were bought in a $19.50 to $24.00 range. Salable receipts totaled 19,000.

Former Jacksonville Couple Sought After Alton Double Murder A former Jacksonville couple was sought Monday in connection with a double murder at Alton, Ill., in which a young Sunday School teacher and her fiancé were shot and their bodies abandoned near a lime quarry, a short distance from the McAdams highway.

James Oliver, 22, and his wife, Laura Estell Oliver, 18, are being sought by Alton police. The Olivers were seen in company with the victims late Saturday night, authorities reported. Murder warrants were issued Monday against the couple.

The two bodies were not found until 2:30 o'clock Sunday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Besaw and their four children, 22 Shaw street, Alton, found them during a picnic trip.

Dr. Lucy Huang Tells Women How Chinese And Americans Differ

A capacity crowd attended the May luncheon of the Jacksonville Woman's club held Saturday at the Dunlap hotel. Bringing to a close a season of exceptionally outstanding programs was a thought-provoking talk, though highly entertaining, by Miss Lucy Huang, Ph. D. faculty member of Lake Erie College at Painesville, Ohio.

Tables were made most attractive by flowers from spring gardens provided and arranged by the following hostesses, Mrs. M. J. Butler and Mrs. R. P. Curry, Mrs. Herbert Lee and Mrs. W. R. Maxwell, Miss Margaret Camm and Mrs. Fred Carter, Mrs. Charles Wolke and Mrs. H. P. Metz, Mrs. Lena Kerns and Miss Zelma Hackman and Mrs. Harry Merriman and Mrs. Isaac P. Tomlin. Mrs. Cloyd Wilson was chairman of the luncheon arrangements assisted by Mrs. Harold Wright and Mrs. G. L. Long, co-chairmen. Preceding the serving of the luncheon Mrs. J. Allen Biggs gave the invocation.

The repeating of the Lord's Prayer, led by Mrs. Earl J. Myers, and the pledge to the flag, led by Mrs. Harry Hatches, opened the regular meeting. The president, Mrs. Earl Davis, called for the reading of the minutes of the April meeting and those of the May board meeting by the recording secretary, Mrs. John Marshall.

The ingenuity of her race was impressively made by showing the women clever paper toys made by children of the Chinese when there were no toys available. Dr. Huang showed the women folded paper toy frogs, boat and dolls which, she told her audience, provided just as much amusement as their own cherished toys of childhood.

The speaker wore an attractive Chinese gown of turquoise colored satin elaborately embroidered in colored silk thread. Her luxurious black hair was worn in an attractive western style, semi-up-sweep, encircled with a beautiful green crystal flowered vine ornament with matching earrings. Although the western world prides itself on its advancement, modernization, atomic wonders, militant supremacy the wisdom of age-old China left a permanent impression with Jacksonville clubwomen who heard Dr. Huang speak Saturday.

An impressive memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Clyde H. Landreth for five members of the club who passed away during the past year. As each name was mentioned Mrs. Landreth read condoling and appropriate scripture for: Mrs. Catherine Merrigan, Mrs. Lee Stice, Mrs. Robert Stice, Mrs. Mary Knollenberg and Mrs. C. L. Rice.

Mrs. Davis had Mrs. Herbert J. Capps, president emeritus of the club, stand for recognition followed by introduction of the officers retiring this year: Mrs. James Donaldson, who has served as second vice president the past two years and Mrs. John W. Marshall, recording secretary the past year. The new officers were announced: recording secretary, Mrs. Earl Myers; second vice president, Mrs. Floyd Hess and the new president, Mrs. J. Allen Bibbs, who was asked to make a few remarks.

Greet Mrs. Biggs As Mrs. Biggs' name was announced the entire group of women sang "Happy Birthday" to her, the greeting coming as a complete surprise. Mrs. Biggs was also presented with a lovely bouquet of red roses at the meeting, a commemorative token for her birthday and installation as president of the Jacksonville Woman's Club, from her husband, Dr. J. Allen Biggs and son, Allen Biggs. The new club president, who had just returned from the State Convention of Federated Women's club in Chicago, told briefly of her stay and her anticipation for a successful two year term in office. Mrs. Davis then asked the present officers of the club to stand for identification, also the luncheon committee and hostesses. The annual auditor's report for the club was given by Mrs. Wilbur Smith, co-auditor. Mrs. Louis Boddy, members of the executive board also were asked to stand for recognition.

Miss Charlotte Sieber, chairman of music, introduced Miss Mahala McGeehe, who played two selections in her accomplished and polished manner, a modern number by Samuel Barber and an impromptu by Schubert.

Mrs. Thomas K. Kline, chairman of the day, explained to the club members the close travel connections Miss Huang, the guest speaker, encountered in coming to Jacksonville from Ohio. A hurried auto trip was necessary on the last lap of her journey from Mattoon, Ill. to Jacksonville with Miss Huang arriving just in time to speak to the group at 2 o'clock.

The speaker's topic was "American Women vs. Chinese Women," sprinkled with just the right amount of Explanatory background of Dr. Huang plus a delightful amount of her clever Chinese philosophy. Her distinctive style of delivery held the group's rapt attention and though several hundred women listened each must have had the impression at intervals she was alone with the speaker. Dr. Huang came to America in 1947, the realization of a childhood ambition stemming from a gift of an American doll she received from a missionary. The culmination of her dream of coming to this country started with contacts made by Miss Huang who worked for the U. S. Army during World War Two. She received her chance by the offer of a scholarship for one year from a Huntington, West Virginia college.

Most interesting was the description of the speaker's childhood, her own vivid impressions of her life as a child, improvised entertainment and mannerisms, now made more contrasting since her life in this country the past eight years.

Age-Wisdom Synonymous One of the most impressive comparisons Dr. Huang made was the profound respect the Chinese have for age. The term age is synonymous with experience to the Chinese and revered as such, both in respect and wisdom. Miss Huang told of the pride Chinese families have in caring for their aged and how few homes there are in China specifically for the aged. In contrast with this respected tradition was her description of the crowded living conditions, the hunger and desperate situations so many of the Chinese are forced to live under today. She reminded the women their coin contributions for the foreign nations is of unestimable good.
